Double M Ranch (TX)

President Dawson Masters

My favorite time of the day is when I pull into my ranch at the end of the workday and observe my cattle grazing in the pasture. Equally exciting is introducing new folks to the Belted Galloway breed. Animals that are offered for sale on my ranch represent my breeding program, but more importantly, the breed.

As a purebred breeder, you need to represent the Belted Galloway breed with your best foot forward. I think we have all seen animals offered for sale that should be culled because they don't do our breed justice. A disturbing reality is that those animals mostly just have a belt. We are always fighting the stigma of a hobby breed. By advertising cull cattle or "registerable" cattle on social media, it does not serve our breed or our organization well.

It is not a secret that during the past decade the breed has grown by leaps and bounds in the southwest. As breeders, we must actively seek new markets. More animals than buyers are not a good thing. Selling to ourselves does nothing to ensure our future. We have the most eye appealing, easy handling, and easy keeping breed alive today. I would be remiss if I didn't clarify easy keeping. You absolutely need programs for herd health, feed, and grazing management for your area of the country.

It should be the goal of each member to sell at least one cow to a new member each year. When you send in the transfer, the new buyer is automatically a member of the Belted Galloway Society.

I think most of our breeders, as well as casual observers from other breeds, would agree that the quality of the Belted Galloway breed continues to improve each decade. In the past, we have looked abroad to find quality genetics. I believe that decision played an invaluable role in the development of our animals. I am now convinced that our membership owns many of the very best Belted Galloways.

About bulls ... Before advertising a young male be sure he is well conformed, tracks properly, has good legs and feet, and exhibits good weight gains. We recommend including data on his birth weight, 205-day weaning weight, and yearling weight. If he's reached breeding age (around 16 months), it's definitely a plus to have his semen checked for quantity and motility, and uniform scrotal development (two normal sized testicles). It is required that registration numbers be included on bulls advertised for sale in the classifieds.

Janie Tripp, Magnolia Trace Farm, Brookhaven, MS participated with a dun heifer on display at FARMtastic, an agriculture experiential learning activity hosted by the Mississippi State University Extension Service. The educational program is designed to involve second, third and fourth grade students in hands on learning about the agricultural industry in Mississippi.

Andy LeMaistre, Mitchell Ledge Farm, Freeport, Maine promoted the Belted Galloway breed during the 76th Annual Maine Agricultural Trades Show!

Camp KK, Rockton, IL

Fifteen Belted Galloway youth from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin attended the KK Camp at the Kathi Jurkowski's Klover Korner's Farm in Rockton, Illinois May 17-19, 2019. Chuck McCullough, McCullough Fitting Clinics, Allerton, Iowa covered how to feed, wash, clip, and train a show animal. To conclude the camp, the youth had the opportunity to show off their skills in showmanship classes. The camp was made very affordable. A $50 camp fee was all they were charged plus lodging!

Kathi Jurkowski, Illinois

I loved this fitting clinic because the juniors learned how to clip their cattle themselves. We had dads with daughters, mom with sons, and cousins, all joined in to form their family team. A few of the Belties came in looking like wooly mammoths and left looking like show cattle. They all will be going to their county fairs soon and they will do the breed proud. Sunday, they worked on showmanship skills. It was a very busy, but fun weekend. They all want to do it again next year. We will see because a committee is thinking it over now. The whole weekend was paid for by all the items that were bought at the Great Lakes field day auctions. Thank you all for your support. I can't think of a better way to spend money on kids with Belties. We hope to do it again but next time in Indiana. Here are the responses from the campers.

Lauren Kirschbaum, Wisconsin

I learned to clip and fit the underline of my heifer. My favorite part was meeting new juniors and working on showmanship skills.

Kristy Peters, Illinois

My favorite part was learning more about and working on showmanship.

The Conley family, Indiana

Tucker: Meeting new friends. Makinley: learning how to clip. Jennifer (mom): the patience and hospitality of EVERYONE! We felt SO welcome! Mick (dad): being with people of our breed who love them like we do!

29th National Belted Galloway Sale

Dustin James, Sales Manager

The New England Galloway Group proudly hosted the 29th National Belted Galloway Sale on April 27, 2019, in Fryeburg Maine. Although this year's sale offered some unique challenges stemming from an extended winter in the Northeast and a late-blooming spring, the sale was yet again a wonderful success.

Breeders from all over the country and even Canada gathered on the Fryeburg Fairgrounds on that cool, damp Saturday to attend the sale. In addition, we had 147 online viewers of the sale and 22 online bids. Of those online bids, five live lots and two genetic lots sold thanks to our online auction service, LiveAuctions. Those that were able to watch saw an incredibly deep and diverse set of Belted Galloway cattle offered. The impact of this year's sale lineup on the breed is certainly something to keep an eye on.

Taking top honors of this year's sale was a first-time consignment by Kiyiwana Farms, LLC. (NY), Kiyiwana Eva. The Tyler Cup open heifer sold to Kevin Dean of Bull Isle Farm, Awendaw, South Carolina for $7,600! The top selling bred female, also bought by Bull Isle Farm, was Pine View Emmy Lou (AI), a Clifton Hercules daughter sold by Pine View Farm (ME), for $6750. The top-selling cow/calf pair was PCSC-ALD Two Step 3D, who sold for $7,000 to Matthew Leonard of Shady Oak Farm (NC), consigned by Pine Creek Show Cattle (ME).

Averages of the sale are as follows;

11 Open Heifers	averaged $2,269
10 Bred Females	averaged $2,705
2 Cow/Calf Pairs	averaged $5,000
2 Bulls/Prospects	averaged $1,550
12 Embryos	averaged $ 221 per embryo
65 Straws of Semen	averaged $ 57 per straw

The sale offered 27 Live Lots and 10 genetic lots and totaled $77,350. The sale committee would like to thank all the consignors and buyers alike for their efforts in making this sale another successful one. This sale would not be possible without quality consignments, and we appreciate the effort put forth to produce those. We have an exciting lineup of events and ideas for next year's 30th-anniversary sale. We hope that you can all join us for an unforgettable weekend next year on April 24-26, 2020.
